Shades of dark red, lavender and deep purple, a reflective black vinyl ceiling, and hand-cut Parisian crystal lamps add just the right complimentary golden glow and a sense of the ethereal to B Bar, the deep underground lounge now open at The Betsy Hotel on South Beach. Evoking the classic nightclub elegance of the 1920s, bespoke attired bartenders and wait staff evoke the classic elegance of the Prohibition era. But make no mistake: the cocktails flow freely here, from a Hendricks Gin-based, blueberry- and raspberry-infused Blue Velvet to the signature Josephine (as in Ms. Baker), an elixir of apricot liqueur and Thousand Flower runny honey. Yes, the vision of renowned designer Callin Fortis, of Big Time Design Studios, is indeed a stunning reality. As he says, “The B Bar is intentionally crafted with French mid-century contemporary styling which rests delicately on top of true nightclub bones.” We’ll drink to that. B Bar, in The Betsy Hotel, 1440 Ocean Drive, Miami Beach, 305.531.6100; visit thebetsyhotel.com.
